2 Risk Management Objectives and Policies

In accordance with MIFIDPRU 8.2, Britannia is required to disclose its risk management objectives and policies for the following categories:

- (i) Own funds requirements (MIFIDPRU 4)
- (ii) Concentration risk (MIFIDPRU 5)
- (iii) Liquidity (MIFIDPRU 6)

The overarching Risk Management architecture is governed by the Risk Management Framework (“RMF”). The RMF covers the risk management of all financial and non-financial risks faced by the Firm, with clear policies and procedures in place to effectively manage, mitigate, or accept these risks. There is also a clear escalation procedure embedded within the risk management of the firm to ensure effective escalation of any risks outside of the BGM Board approved Risk Appetite. BGM has implemented the Three Lines of Defence model, designed to enable the First, Second and Third Lines of Defence to work together effectively, based on a single framework, common dataset, clear accountabilities, and a standardised risk taxonomy. This process ensures all three lines of defence are aligned with the level of Risk that is acceptable and should be taken. Monthly Executive and Risk Committee meetings, along with quarterly Board meetings, are in place at BGM to allow for the efficient and effective reporting and escalation of Risks faced by the Firm, however escalation may be immediate.

Risk Appetite is the amount of risk that a Firm is willing to accept or retain to achieve its objectives and deliver its services, externally and internally. Risk Appetite levels are set for each of the headline risks defined within the RMF and are approved by the Board, in consultation with the Head of Risk, setting the risk-taking boundaries within which the Executive and senior management execute the firm's business strategy and seek to achieve its objectives. Risk Appetite Statements are reviewed and approved by the Board on an annual basis or post a significant change in the size, nature, or structure of the business, or significant market change.

BGM has implemented, via segregated functions and reporting structures, a "three lines of defence model" designed to safeguard the internal control framework.

The First Line of Defence

The First Line of Defence is primarily responsible for taking and managing risk within the firm's Risk Framework and Risk Appetite, and driving the delivery of services, thus achieving the business objectives held by the executive management team. The first line includes the Front Office, Operations, Legal and Human Resources functions.

The Second Line of Defence

The Second Line of Defence comprises the Risk Management, Compliance and Finance functions, whose role is to provide guidance and support to the First Line of Defence and oversee the adherence to the Risk Management Framework.

The Third Line of Defence

The third line of defence is the activity of the BGM Board who will assess the business via the management information ("MI") provided. The Firm also utilises an External Audit company, which performs an assessment of the risk and controls of the business.

Own Funds Requirement

BGM calculates the K-Factors under MIFIDPRU 4.6 which define the required capital of the Firm to continue current activities, which are detailed further within the Own Funds Requirement section of the disclosures. These K-Factors are grouped into 3 sections:

- (i) Risk to Client (“RtC”)
- (ii) Risk to Markets (“RtM”)
- (iii) Risk to Firm (“RtF”)

The Board ensures that sufficient capital is always held within the Firm to adequately cover the Own Funds Requirement, and the business strategy of the firm does not present a risk to the continuation of capital requirement coverage. BGM’s Board is responsible for assessing the Firm’s internal capital need in a way that is consistent with its risk profile and operating environment.

The RMF, associated Risk Appetite Statements, Committees, and the internal controls work to achieve this while accepting risk in the normal course of business. New business or acquisitions are fully assessed for potential capital requirements during the due diligence phase and prior to approval.

Concentration Risk

BGM is not permitted to incur an exposure (after taking into account the effect of credit risk mitigation) to a client or group of connected clients the value of which exceeds 25% of its eligible capital (At 31 December 22 - £35,886,000 X 25% = £8,971,500). Where the client is an institution that value shall not exceed 25% of the institution’s eligible capital or 150m EUR.

Concentration risk is that associated with the Firm’s exposure to sectoral, geographic and entity or obligor concentrations.

1. Exposures to each counterparty, including central counterparties, groups of connected counterparties and counterparties in the same economic sector, geographic region or from the same activity or commodity.
2. The application of credit risk mitigation techniques; and
3. Risks associated with large indirect credit exposures, such as a single collateral issuer.

Neither of the types of concentration risk mentioned in points (2) or (3) are plausible for BGM.

For point (1), the nature of the business ensures there are no dominant clients, rather the client base is diverse with a variety of base currencies, geographies, and differing sectoral and product interests. A loss of any individual client, group of clients or client desk would equate to a marginal loss of income but would not materially impact the medium-term performance of the business. This also applies to any potential client, or connected client, defaults following volatile market movements.

Liquidity

Liquidity Risk is governed by the Board approved Liquidity Risk Management Framework (“LRMF”). The Board ensures that sufficient excess liquidity is always held within the Firm to adequately cover potential liquidity stress following a period of volatility or market event. New business or acquisitions are fully assessed for potential future liquidity requirements during the due diligence phase and prior to approval.

ICARA

BGM compares the K-Factors calculated under MIFIDPRU 4.6 which define the required capital of the Firm to the internal risk assessment under ICARA to highlight the additional capital requirements, or Additional Own Funds (“AOF”), under ICARA. Effective governance of BGM requires ownership of the ICARA by the Board. Policies and procedures are in place to embed the ICARA throughout the business.

3 Governance Arrangements

SYSC 4.1.1 requires all firms to have robust governance arrangements and effective processes for managing risks. It also requires all institutions to have in place sound and effective strategies to assess and maintain adequate capital, having considered the nature and level of their risks in a forward-looking manner.

The Board works to ensure that the FCA’s Principles for Businesses as set out in the FCA Handbook’s Principles for Businesses Sourcebook (PRIN) and all other regulatory obligations are abided by in the conduct of BGM’s business. Decisions are only made after taking into consideration the Firm’s regulatory obligations and the interests of clients, employees, and other stakeholders.

The Board of Directors

BGM’s Board is the Firm’s governing body and retains primary responsibility for the activities of the Firm.

The role of the Board is to provide overall governance and strategic direction by applying sound business judgment in BGM’s best interests, in the interests of the Firm’s customers and of the markets. The board is responsible for setting strategy, approving risk appetite, business planning and oversight of management's execution of strategy and plans.

The composition of the Board at 31 December 2022 is as follows:

- Stephen Pettitt – SMF3 (Executive Director) (appointed 27/02/23)
- Andrew Bole – Non-Executive Director (appointed 24/03/22)

Appointment of Board members is undertaken in accordance with Senior Management, Systems and Controls Sourcebook (SYSC), which forms part of the FCA’s Handbook and MIFIDPRU requirements. Potential conflicts of interests, and any additional directorships held by Board members are monitored in accordance with SYSC requirements.

The Board’s structure and the character and integrity of the individual Directors serves to ensure that no one individual or group dominates the decision-making process.
